LEGAL INFORMATION

The presentations offered at the 2007 South Florida Alternative Investments Forum are for informational purposes and are not an offer to buy or sell, or a solicitation of an offer to buy or sell any financial instrument.

*Accredited Investor is a term used by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) under Regulation D to refer to investors who are financially sophisticated and have a reduced need for the protection provided by certain government filings.

In order for an individual to qualify as an accredited investor, he or she must accomplish at least one of the following:

- 1) earn an individual income of more than $200,000 per year, or a joint income of $300,000, in each of the last two years and expect to reasonably maintain the same level of income.
- 2) have a net worth exceeding $1 million, either individually or jointly with his or her spouse.
- 3) be a general partner, executive officer, director or a related combination thereof for the issuer of a security being offered.

Hedge Funds: (1) often engage in leveraging and other speculative investment practices that may increase the risk of investment loss; (2) can be highly illiquid; (3) are not required to provide periodic pricing or valuation information to investors; (4) may involve complex tax structures and delays in distributing important tax information; (5) are not subject to the same regulatory requirements as mutual funds; and (6) often charge high fees.
